Jaguar Facts

1. Jaguars are the largest of South America's big cats and the third largest cats in the world.
2. At one time jaguars roamed all the way to the US-Mexico border, but jaguars are now only occasionally sighted in Texas and Arizona. Most jaguars are found in the Amazon river basin.
3. The name jaguar comes from the Native American word yaguar, which means 'he who kills with one leap'.
4. Their fur is usually tan or orange with black spots, called "rosettes" because they are shaped like roses.
5. Jaguars live alone and mark their territory with their waste or by clawing trees.
6. The jaguar's scientific name is Panthera onca.
7. Jaguars are mammals. They are carnivores and eat a diet rich in meat and fish.
8. They can live to be 12 to 15 years old in the wild.
9. Adult jaguars weigh between 45 to 113 kilograms.
10. From the tip of his nose to the tip of his tail, a jaguar can be 240cm long.

Arguments

But avoid foolish questions, and genealogies, and contentions, and strivings about the law; for they are unprofitable and vain.

A man that is an heretick after the first and second admonition reject; Titus 3:9-10

Personally, I love a good argument or debate. It's part of my nature. It's part of my genetic makeup. Nearly everyone in my immediate family loves a good debate. Many of my friends love a good discussion or debate. There is absolutely nothing wrong with a good discussion or debate until it turns into an argument or a quarrel. At that point, it can become very harmful.

Many years ago I read a book written by Dale Carnegie. In it he said, "No one ever wins an argument." Now hold on, I've won several arguments in my time. I proved, without a doubt, that I was right.

Maybe I did prove myself to be right and the other person to be wrong, but what did I really accomplish in doing this? What did I really prove? How did I make the other person feel? Did I really gain anything by winning the argument?

Some things in life are worth taking a stand for, but many things are not worth it. As the apostle Paul wrote in his letter to Titus, we should avoid foolish controversies and arguments. They are unprofitable and useless.

Mission & Vision Statement Of: Calvary Christian Fellowship

Mission: To realize our need of Christ.

To help one another on life's journey.

Vision: To surrender to Christ our Head, to walk in the Spirit, to love as Jesus loves.

To be a place where it's safe to share failures, struggles, hopes, and dreams.

To encourage, and empower one another to find God's purpose as we walk with Christ on our journey to Heaven.

To help the hurting find healing, and the lost experience salvation, in Christ.

To assist in physical needs among, and around us.
