The Wise Old Owl

There was an old owl who lived in an oak tree. Every day, he observed incidents that occurred around him.

Yesterday, he watched as a young boy helped an old man carry a heavy basket. Today, he saw a young girl shouting at her mother. The more he saw, the less he spoke.

As the days went on, he spoke less but heard more. The old owl heard people talking and telling stories.

He heard a woman saying an elephant jumped over a fence. He heard a man saying that he had never made a mistake.

The old owl had seen and heard what happened to people. There were some who became better, some who became worse. But the old owl in the tree had become wiser, each and every day.

Moral: Be more observant. Talk less and listen more. This will make us wise.

TEAM SPIRIT

A business man gets stranded in a lonely highway in the US. The tires of his car get stuck badly in a mud pool. He looks around for help and finally finds an old farmer. This businessman goes to him asking for help to get his car out of the mud. The farmer gauges the situation, and agrees to help him and says, let us take the help of Warwick.

Warwick was an old bull around, but the helpless business man agrees. The farmer ties the bull to the car and start shouting loudly, ' FRED, PULL!.. JACK, PULL!.. JOHN, PULL... WARWICK, PULL'. As the farmer keeps shouting these words, the bull Warwick gets the car out of the pool of mud.

The businessman is relieved but has a doubt in his mind. He thanks the farmer and asks him, ' you said the bull's name was Warwick, and he was alone, then who were these Fred, Jack & John?' Farmer coolly answered, "See, Warwick is old and is also blind. He does not know he is pulling this car alone. The moment he hears the other names, he thinks he is in a team, and he gives his best".

Moral: So is the case with all of us. The very thought that there are people to help us blesses us with a great deal of comfort, hope, confidence and entuses us to put our heart and soul into any task that we undertake. Indeed, greatest civilizations have always been built on the foundations of a greater level of cooperation from their citizens, and the smartest animals we know — apes, elephants, wolves, dolphins, and crows — tend to live together in cooperative groups and work together for survival.

As H.E.Luccock said, "No one can whistle a symphony. It takes an orchestra to play it." It's not without reason that the very word TEAM is said to stand for "Together Everyone Achieves More"*.
