Koala, December 8, 2008, Created on Day 6

Design The koala was designed with an opposable index finger that it uses as a second thumb for feeding and climbing. It was also designed with a padded tail, which allows it to sit in a tree all day. A koala hardly ever needs to drink water since it receive most of its water from the eucalyptus leaves that it eats. The name koala means "no-drink animal." Since the koala does not have any sweat glands, it will lick its arms and stretch out on its tree to cool off.

Features The koala has dense fur that is colored from gray to a reddish-brown. Many also have white patches on the chest, chin, and rump. The pouch opens in the rear and extends upward and forward. The koala is completely arboreal.

Fun Facts The koala is not a bear; it is a marsupial. It spends up to 18 hours a day sleeping. A koala will sometimes eat dirt. This helps it digest its food.

Created Kind Members None

CLASS: Mammalia (mammal) ORDER: Diprotodontia (pair of incisors on lower jaw)

FAMILY: Phascolarctidae GENUS/SPECIES: Phascolarctos cinereus Size: Between 25 and 33 in (0.7–0.8 m) Weight: Between 15 and 30 lbs (6.8–14 kg) Original Diet: Plants Present Diet: Eucalyptus leaves, young bark, and mistletoe Habitat: Eucalyptus forests of eastern Australia

1 Corinthians 13 For the Home

If I live in a house of spotless beauty with everything in its place, but have not love, I am a housekeeper not a homemaker.

If I have time for waxing, polishing, and decorative achievements. but have not love, my children learn cleanliness but not godliness.

Love leaves the dust in search of a child's laugh. Love smiles at the tiny fingerprints on a newly cleaned window. Love wipes away the tears before it wipes up the spilled milk. Love picks up the child before it picks up the toys.

Love is present through the trials. Love reprimands, reproves, and is responsive. Love crawls with the baby, walks with the toddler, runs with the child, then stands aside to let the youth walk into adulthood.

Love is the key that opens salvation's message to a child's heart. Before I became a mother, I took glory in my house of perfection. Now I glory in God's perfection of my child.

As a mother, there is much I must teach my child, but the greatest of all is love. "Charity suffereth long, and is kind; charity envieth not; charity vaunteth not itself is not puffed up, doth not behave itself Unseemly, seeketh not her Own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil; Rejoiceth not in iniquity, but rejoiceth in the truth; Beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things. Charity never fails.

1 Corinthians 13:4-8
