Warning Bright colors and brilliant patterns can also send a clear signal: "Stay away!" If a predator ignores these loud decorations, it will have very bad dining experience.

Redback Spider

This Aussie relative to the black widow spider shares one important feature. The female has a red stripe on her abdomen. Just like their cousins' red hourglass, it means keep away. One bite can cause terrible nausea, vomiting, and pain.

Amazing Pine –

I continue to be amazed by God and the universe he created. When God created the lodgepole pine tree, he knew (by design) that it would be susceptible to forest fires. Therefore, the seed of the lodgepole pine is tightly sealed in the cone by a high-temperature resin. The pine cones, for the most part, cannot open until they are exposed to very high temperatures – the type of temperature created by a forest fire.

The scientific term for a seed that requires an environmental trigger in order to be released is "serotinous." When a forest fire destroys a stand of lodgepole pines, the seeds for a new crop are automatically released. These seeds can lay in wait for many, many years. I find this amazing!

I recently heard a similar story... about Death Valley – which is normally so dry that very little in the way of vegetation is able to grow. After a very unusual wet season, flowers and plants appeared that had not been seen for well over 100 years. The seeds of these previously-considered "extinct" plants had always been present – but were unable to sprout until the conditions were right.
