Duma

My name is Duma, and I am a cheetah from the plains of Africa. Cheetahs are members of the cat kind that God made on Day Six of Creation Week. We have been equipped by our Creator to be the fastest land animals alive on earth today. We can reach speeds of up to 70 miles per hour (113 km/h)! That's fast! To run that fast, we need special designs. My Creator has given me several of these special designs. I have large claws that grab the ground for traction, a wide nose so I can grab air faster, a bigger heart and lungs so more oxygen can get through my body faster, a flexible spine that allows my back feet to come in front of my front feet so I cover more ground in one stride, and a long tail to help me stay balanced as I make quick turns. Together, all of these features give me the ability to run really fast. Next time you see a cheetah at the zoo or in a book or movie, think of my Creator, who has given me special, incredible designs so I can do what I was designed to do—run really fast!

Here are some other cool facts about the cheetah:

•Lions, tigers, jaguars, and even house cats are in the same created kind as me.

- You can recognize me by my oval spots and the black lines on my face—they make me look like I'm crying, but I'm not.
- I can turn in midair while I'm running after my prey.
- My kind only started eating meat after Adam and Eve sinned. Before that, like all the animals, we were vegetarians.

Size: 2–3 ft (0.7–0.9 m) tall; around 4 ft (1.4 m) long Weight: 110–143 lbs (50–65 kg) Diet: Antelope, birds, rabbits, and porcupines

Working Together

Two are better than one, because they have a good return for their work. If one falls down, his friend can help him up. But pity the man who falls and has no one to help him up. (Ecclesiastes 4:9-10)

In rural America, we often admire and look up to those who appear to be ultra-independent and self-reliant. They seem to have it all together. They appear to be able to get along just fine without anyone else's help or assistance.

The older and wiser I become, however, the more I realize that happy and successful lives are built on relationships with other people. Instead of independence, we should be seeking interdependence. The more friends and relationships people have the more successful, contented and happy they seem to be.

Win-Win...I suggest you work to develop as many win-win relationships as you can. A win-win relationship is one in which all those involved benefit from being involved. It is people helping people. It can never be one-sided. Stephen Covey is quoted as saying, "Win-win sees life as a cooperative arena – not a competitive arena."

Don't Forget...the most important relationship of all is your relationship with the Lord our God through Jesus. If you do not have a personal and saving relationship with God, then all that you have is temporary at best.
